

Class of 2024 First Destinations Survey

Career Works, in partnership with Institutional Research, Assessment, and Planning (IRAP), and the Office of Advancement & Alumni Relations, surveyed 171 graduates from the Class of 2024 to determine their first destinations. The survey aligns with the standards and protocols approved by the National Association for Colleges & Employers (NACE), the governing organization for career development professionals. The project connected with 126 respondents, representing a 73.68% response rate.

Overall, 85.71% of respondents were engaged in full-time work, education, or service. Below, please find a summary of relevant data. A full report, which includes full lists of employers and graduate programs, and a copy of the survey instrument are available from the Institutional Research, Assessment & Planning office, by request.
